About Northeast State

Location
Northeast State Community College is located adjacent to the Tri-Cities Regional Airport in Sullivan County, Tennessee. The main campus is centrally located to the cities of Bristol, Johnson City, and Kingsport. The college also occupies educational facilities in Elizabethton, Gray, and Kingsport.

History
The history of Northeast State Community College reflects the changing educational needs of the residents of the five Northeast Tennessee counties which it serves. The college began as Tri-Cities State Area Vocational-Technical School in 1966 under the governance of the State Board for Vocational Education. In 1970, the mission was expanded and the school became a regional center for vocational and technical training. The scope was again expanded in 1978 to include the awarding of both one-year certificates and associate degrees in technology and the name was changed to Tri-Cities State Technical Institute. Effective on July 1, 1983, Tri-Cities State Tech was placed under the governance of the Tennessee State Board of Regents and became part of the State University and Community College System of Tennessee. On July 1, 1990, a university parallel component was added, and the institution’s name was changed to Northeast State Technical Community College. On July 1, 2009, the name of the institution was changed to Northeast State Community College to better reflect the diverse range of programs offered by the institution.

As a comprehensive community college, Northeast State provides university parallel programs designed for students desiring to transfer to another college or university, career programs for students planning to enter the workforce immediately upon graduation, and continuing education and community service programs for professional growth and personal enrichment to the citizens of Carter, Johnson, Sullivan, Unicoi and Washington Counties. In partnership with the community, the college sustains the effort toward improving the quality of life for residents of the upper East Tennessee region.

Vision
Northeast State shall be a premier learning-centered institution whose students and graduates are among the best-prepared individuals to meet current and emerging needs.

Mission
Northeast State is an open-access, public, comprehensive community college that advances the lifelong educational development of the residents of the region and strengthens the economic and social/cultural aspects of the community. To facilitate teaching, learning, service, and student success, the College provides innovative, high-quality, and relevant associate, certificate, and career-focused educational programs and services. Programming and comprehensive support services are offered through varied delivery systems and at multiple sites throughout its primary service area of Carter, Johnson, Sullivan, Unicoi, and Washington counties. Within all aspects of its operations, Northeast State serves as the public’s interest through the wise use of fiscal, human, and physical resources.

Values
Northeast State Community College embraces these values:

Respect
We value respect and provide an environment of inclusiveness, cooperation, and diversity.

Responsibility
We value responsibility and promote integrity, accountability, and excellence in teaching, learning, and services.

Responsiveness
We value responsiveness and facilitate personal, professional, and economic growth.

Dr. Warren Nichols
Vice Chancellor of Community Colleges, Tennessee Board of Regents

Warren R. Nichols is the Vice Chancellor of Community Colleges for the Tennessee Board of Regents, where he provides the overall strategic direction, coordination, and support of the 13 Tennessee public community colleges. As Vice Chancellor he has overseen the transition from a system of 13 independently managed institutions to a comprehensive statewide community college system managed in a unified manner.

Dr. Nichols previously served as President of Volunteer State Community College in Gallatin, Tennessee. In his time there, he led the institution through a substantial growth period, with a record student enrollment of nearly 9000 students and several significant construction projects to expand the college’s facilities. Prior to Vol State, he was the Vice President for Academic Affairs at Darton College in Albany, Ga., and was the founding associate dean of social and behavioral sciences and public service at Montgomery College in The Woodlands, Texas.

A native of Fort Worth, Texas, Dr. Nichols holds a doctorate in higher education administration from the University of Houston. He received his master and bachelor degrees from the University of Texas at Arlington, and began his journey in higher education at Tarrant County Junior College in Hurst, Texas. Dr. Nichols started his professional career as a police officer in Arlington Texas, and later transitioned to the field of higher education.

The Academic Procession

In colleges and universities, academic degrees are conferred at the commencement exercise. Originally the term meant the inception of the student graduate as a teacher and his recognition as such by his master and other members of the profession. Thus, the term once marked an actual beginning.

The processional and recessional of students and faculty dressed in academic regalia is a traditional part of these commencement exercises. This history of academic dress goes back to the medieval universities. In the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities were taking form, they were under the jurisdiction of the church. Those studying wore a habit or a cloak to which was attached a cowl or hood. This could be pulled up over the head or thrown back, according to weather conditions. Later, the gown served the dual purpose of providing warmth in the unheated halls as well as uniformity of dress.

The cap is an essential part of the academic dress and it is to be retained on the head throughout all academic exercises except during prayer. In particular, the cap is not to be removed at any point in the conferment of the degree.
