Core Performance Standards

All Tennessee Board of Regents (TBR) nursing programs have adopted the following core performance standards proposed by the Southern Council on Collegiate Education for Nursing (1992). Admission to and progression in nursing programs is not based on these standards; instead they will be used to assist each student in determining whether accommodations or modifications are necessary. Each of these standards is reflected in nursing course objectives and provides an objective measure for students and advisors to make informed decisions regarding whether the student is “qualified” to meet requirements. Copies of these standards will be available to every applicant and student. If a student believes that he or she cannot meet one or more of the core performance standards without accommodations or modifications, it is appropriate for the student to take the responsibility of identifying his or her need for accommodations to the Center for Students and Disabilities and course instructor. The needs of each self-identified student will be addressed on an individual basis when considering necessary accommodations, and it is recognized that helping to determine successful accommodation is the responsibility of the student, as well as the faculty member. The nursing program will cooperate with other college units to identify auxiliary aids and services which may be needed for reasonable accommodations.

Core Performance Standards for Admission and Progression

1. Critical thinking ability sufficient for clinical judgment.
2. Interpersonal abilities sufficient to interact with individuals, families, and groups from a variety of social, emotional, cultural, and intellectual backgrounds.
3. Communication abilities sufficient for interaction with others in verbal and written form.
4. Physical abilities sufficient to move from room to room and maneuver in small spaces.
5. Gross and fine motor abilities sufficient to monitor and assess health needs.
6. Auditory abilities sufficient to monitor and assess health needs.
7. Visual ability sufficient for observation and assessment necessary in nursing care.
8. Tactile ability sufficient for physical assessment.

Tuberculosis (Tb) Screening 2 Step Process – required annually

The 2-Step process is useful in identifying a positive skin test as a result of a remote history of previous Tb exposure. The baseline tuberculin test is applied and read as usual. If this test is negative, the individual has a repeat skin test in 1 to 3 weeks. If this is also negative, then the individual is considered uninfected, and an annual screening tool will be required in subsequent years. However, if the second test is positive, the individual should be considered infected and treated accordingly, but this would not be considered a conversion.

The applicant must provide documentation of the results of the screen. Please remember, the results must be in millimeters; “positive” or “negative” is not acceptable. The applicant will need to complete one of the two the screening options below.
